Legislature Ok's DA, Board Hikes

A bill to raise the salaries of the Contra Costa County district attorney and board of supervisors has passed the State Legislature without opposition and is now awaiting Governor Goodwin Knight's signature.

According to Paul Mason, the governor's legislative secretary, "it would be very difficult for the governor to veto the bill."

MASON SAID THAT the bill has come into the governor's office since it cleared the senate late last week but has not yet reached his desk.

Under the measure's provisions the district attorney's salary would be raised from $12,000 to $15,000 and each board member's salary from $7200 to $8400.

However, the provisions of the bill would not take effect until after the next election according to the bill's author, Assemblyman S. C. Masterson, El Sobrante Democrat.

DEFENDING THE BILL'S purpose, Masterson said Tuesday in Sacramento that "you don't set the salary of an office on the basis of how much money the person holding the office has, you set the salary on the basis of what the office deserves."

Masterson said that he expected the bill to be passed since he had received no word from the governor declaring Knight's intension of vetoing the measure.

Secreary Mason told The Sun that "about 20 or so letters have reached us protesting the increase, I presume on the basis of the editorial that The Sun wrote against the bill."

HE SAID THAT "to the best of his knowledge" there had been no organizational protest to the bill.

"It would be very difficult for the governor to veto a measure of this kind," Mason said. "His job in reviewing legislative action is very much like reviewing a pardon or parole action of the courts—and in this case the legislature is unanimous."

"The basic job of those opposed to this bill was to convince the legislature. If the bill's opponents weren't able to convince one legislator, it would be hard to expect the governor to veto the bill."

MASON SAID THAT GOVERnor Knight had vetoed bills passed unanimously on occasions when the assembly and senate had presented him with duplicate bills on a subject.

But, except in situations where one bill duplicated another, Mason said he "could not recollect" any time when Governor Knight had vetoed a bill passed unanimously by both chambers.

Mason cited legislative, board and grand jury support for the measure and concluded that he could not predict that the bill would be signed even though "a veto would be most untypical in the present situation."

ONE ORGANIZATION emphatically opposed to the bill has been the Pleasant Hill Civic Council which unanimously adopted a resolution at its April meeting "vigorously opposing" the salary increases.

"All positions," the resolution stated," are presently held by incumbents who perform their duties on a part-time basis."

"Until existing 'conflict of interests' (which we are forced to recognize as a serious problem) is repudiated, we urge that you support our stand to the end that it will effectively require that public employees devote the required time . . . in the interests of the people . . ."

THE RESOLUTION, signed by council secretary John Scaglione, was sent to Masterson, Assemblyman Donald Doyle and State Senator George Miller Jr.

Recorder Has 10 Days to Answer In Supreme Court

A bill of accusation has been returned by the Contra Costa County Grand Jury against Ralph Cunningham, county recorder, on grounds of malfeasance and chronic absenteeism.

Although the charges are not criminal indictments, Cunningham has 10 days in which to answer to the charges. If he does not appear he will be tried in absentia in superior court.

THE VERDICT of the court could ask for his removal from office.

No action was requested by the grand jury against Jack B. Haule, intermediate clerk who resigned from the county recorder's office April 19 for health reasons, and James Todesco, senior clerk who had admitted kicking back $12 a month to Haule.

Haule had been cnarged of pocketing county funds which were received for payment of duplicate birth certifcates.

Cunningham stated that the funds had been returned and the grand jury agreed they were petty sums and restitution had been made.

THE BILL of accusation differs from a criminal indictment inasmuch as a guilty verdict in superior court does not envolve prison or fine, but at maximum, removal from office.

Cunningham may ask for a trail by jury if he wishes.

Bancroft noted there was insufficient evidence against Haule and Todesco to bring indictments against them.

Charges against Cunningham state that "Cunningham in appointing Todesco senior clerk in April, 1955, exacted for Todesco as a condition of his appointment an agreement that Todesco would pay $12 a month to Haule.

The payments ended in April of this year when began, said Bancroft.

IN A SECOND accusation presented by the grand jury, Cunningham is charged with "absenting himself from his office for long periods of time, failure to appear at his office on many days with out leave or proper reason for so doing, and has neglected and failed to devote his personal care and attention to administering the work of his office."

The bill of accusation brings to a close hearings by the grand jury which have been underway since since April 18 when shortages for first brought to light in the Recorders office.

Bancroft indicated that the decision of the grand jury was made with "considerable reluctance against a man who has worked for the county for 30 years."

"Most of that time he has done a good job," stated Bancroft.

Cunningham was first appointed as a deputy recorder in 1927 and elected recorder in 1934. He was opposed for reelection in 1954 and won.

The Grand Jury has heard testimony of Howard McNamer, the county auditor; Hoyt Hay, the assistant county recorder; Mrs. Cunningham, who is a clerk in the office and from Glenn Whalen, the grand jury auditor.

Whether or not Cunningham will seek a jury trial was unknown at press time.

Pine Grove Purchase Favored for Center Use

The Orinda Association Board of Directors Monday night paved the way for possible sale of Orinda Community Center land to the adjoining Orinda Community Church.

Meeting in regular session at Orinda School, the directors accepted a recommendation to that effect by their planning committee, headed by Dick Bartle.

Association President W. E. Estes said he would appoint a committee of two to help select an appraiser mutually satisfactory to the association and the church, for evaluation of the land.

IN DECIDING on this course of action, the association board agreed with the planning committee that the Pine Grove 10½ acres of which are being offered for sale to the association by Pacific Intermountain Express Company—"is eminently well suited for community purposes" and "should be considered for possible purchase."

The planning committee recommendations resulted from a special meeting of the committee May 21 with representatives of the Orinda Community Church and several directors of the Orinda Association.

FOLLOWING ARE the recommendations of the association's planning committee, as accepted by the board Monday night:

"1. The Community Church constitutes appropriate use in its present location and its expansion into property owned by the Orinda Association appears to be desirable.

"2. Believing that the Orinda Association should continue to own the land in the Community Center area, the committee favors giving further consideration to sale of the Orinda Association's property—with separate consideration for each of the three parcels—if suitable other property available for purchase by the association can be found.

"3. INASMUCH as the Pine Grove area is eminently well suited for community purposes, this site should be considered for possible purchase.

"4. A sale of the Orinda Association's property is preferable to its dedication to the Community Church for parking or other purposes.

"5. The Orinda Library Board has a lease with the association for use of a portion of the association's property. The interests of the Library Board and its right to use this property should be carefully protected in the event of any sale of property."

Attorney General 'Ties Hands' of Transit District

The State Attorney General's office granted a second continuance of one week to the Contra Costa Transit Council Monday in Sacramento in its fight against the Contra Costa-Alameda Transit District.

THE TRANSIT council states the district is an illegal entity and has no power whatsover. The district claims that it was formed by the vote of the electorate and wishes to borrow money until the district is placed on the tax rolls.

Edmund G. (Pat) Brown, the attorney general, was urged by Claire D. MacLeod, president of the transit council, to hurry with his brief so that there will be no further delay in the efforts of the district to provide emergency transportation facilities should the carmen strike.

The carmen empowered their negotiators to strike at will if demands of the union were not met by Key System management.

THE KEY SYSTEM - Carmen contract expires tonight at midnight. The continuance granted by the attorney general is effective until Monday.

MacLeod pointed "Until he (the attorney general) makes a ruling our legal status is in doubt and we cannot borrow a cent of money from either private or state sources.

A meeting was held Monday with John McDonnell of the transit district; Robert Copeland, another director, and Vern Stambaugh of the Carmen's Union. Purpose of the meeting was to work out some means of keeping public transportation in operation even though a strike should develop, said Barber.

A short meeting was held Wednesday morning of the membership of the union to discuss some of the proposals and counter proposals presented both by Key and the union, according to Harold Crew, public relations director of Key.

ARTHUR VIAT, federal concil iator, who haas been conducting the negotiations since last week at the union's request said that the big issues remaining were separation pay, pensions and a wage increase. He menioned that these areas had been barely touched up to Wednesday.

Stambaugh commented, "we're not getting anywhere."

Key System's carmen went on strike in 1953 for 56 days.

The 1953 strike tied up Bay Area traffic and caused traffic jams from deep in Contra Costa County to San Francisco.

Doyle Won't Comment on 'Won't Run Again' Rumor

By LOU CANNON

Will Assemblyman Donald Doyle run for re-election again?

The Lafayette Republican, representing the 10th assembly district, isn't confirming capitol and local rumors that he won't run in 1958 — but he isn't denying them either.

AND HE CONCEDES that it is a "possibility" that he will be a candidate for his party's top state political job, the party chairmanship, when the GOP elects officers next summer.

Actually, it's more than a possibility.

Doyle is currently vice-chairman of the Republicans with Alonzo Bell Jr. of Los Angeles the chairman. Political tradition in California dictates the rotation of the top job between a southern and northern Californian — making Doyle right in line for the post.

While some legislators, notably Thomas Caldecott of Berkeley, have held the top Republican job and an assembly position at the same time, this is not customary operating procedure.

Doyle indicated when first elected to office in 1952 that he would not stay in his present position for more than six years. These six years will expire in 1958.

FOR A MAN — LIKE DOYLE— who has made a name for himself as chairman of the assembly's important education committee, the Republican chair manship would be a significant step up the political ladder.

The basic statistics of the 10th district indicate that Doyle would probably be re-elected again if he chooses to run again, whether or not the textbook or conflict-of-interest controversies have hurt or helped him.

But for the present, Doyle will only say that "I will continue to serve the people of the district to the best of my ability, whether or not I run again."

"My votes are now, and always have been, on a consistent basis of what I believe to be right."

THE BEST BET, at this writing, is that the assemblyman will not be candidate to succeed himself.

Pine Grove Sports Night Next Tues.

The annual Pine Grove Sports Night program will be presented at 7:30 Tuesday night at the Pine Grove Intermediate School in Orinda.

Bob Sherman, instructor in charge of the event, states:

"An outstanding program has been planned that promises to be very entertaining. There is no admission charge. The program is open to the public."

Assisting Sherman are Frank Isola and Jack Clark.

Events on the program include drill routine, volley ball, golf, basketball, square dance, tumbling and wrestling. Pine Grove students will participate.

"Niel Stubblefield and Robin Wilson, eighth grade students, will be highlight in the show with their well-known 'professional' routine," Sherman said.

Church Site Rejected for Location of New Library

After having been under consideration for several weeks, use of the present Orinda Community Church as the location of an expanded Orinda Library had been turned down this week.

This "verdict" is concurred in by Mrs. Bertha D. Hellum, county librarian; Perc S. Brown, general chairman of the Orinda Library Building Fund, and Stanley Allen, chairman of the adult section of the teenage problems committee of the Orinda Association's Civic Affairs Committee.

The church is seeking to expend its present quarters. Study of the library problem tied in with suggested possibility of use of Fellowship Hall in the present church structure as a teenage center.

Following a survey by Mrs. Hellum, the county librarian wrote the following letter to Brown last week, under date of MMay 20:

"After examination of the property and of the plans and specifications of the Orinda Community Church to evaluate its possible use as a public library building, I have come to these conclusions:

1. Making the church building into a library would be a very poor alternative to the original plan to construct a functional library building on the one-half acre allocated by the Orinda Association on the corner of San Pablo Dam Road (Orinda Highway) and Irwin Way.

"2. The church location is not as good as this one.

"3. Operation of a library from the church building would be less efficient than from a library building, since more staff would have to be provided. On a long-range basis, this cost might be considerable.

"4. Finally, I am inclined to accept the view of our Orinda Library staff members: The view that any goodwill obtained from those who would favor using the library fund for a new church plant would be more than offset by the dismay of those contributors who are of a different religious denomination."

BROWN REPORTED this week that immediately upon receiving Mrs. Hellum's letter he telephoned Allen and read the letter to him, adding comments of his own covering the following points:

"1. The money that has been collected and is continuing to be callected by Orinda Library Building Fund is for the construction and equipping of a library. There is no money in that fund for the purchase of land.

"2. Having in mind that the library, as originally constructed, must allow in the plans for ultimate expansion—when, as and if the population of Orinda reaches 25,000 to 28,000 people—to a probable maximum square footage of 8000 square feet or more, the present shelf of land on which the church proper rests is not large enough for the estimated probable ultimate size the library should be." ?

Brown observed this week:

"I think everyone now feels that the Orinda Library Building Fund has cooperated to the extent of developing the facts.

"These facts, based upon the points brought out by Mrs. Hellum and by me, clearly disclose that the Orinda Library Building Fund could not properly consider using any present structure on the Community Church property as a substitute for building a modern, functional but modest library."

Rotarians Hear SPCA Speaker

Charles Marsh of Orinda, a member of the Oakland Rotary Club and a representative of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, discussed the SPCA program Wednesday noon at the Orinda Rotary Club's weekly luncheon meeting at the Willows.

Program chairman was Blaine DeLeshe. President Ramsay Underwood conducted the meeting.

Service Aspect of Regional Library Is Emphasized

The proposed creation of a central Contra Costa library, with some 75,000 square feet for facilities and parking, is intended to be complimentary to the community libraries and to be also of service to them, County Libarian Bertha Hellum said this week.

She laid emphasis to her remarks made earlier that the county will continue to supply community libraries when the new "regional" library is constructed, and the new library will also provide the small libraries with services.

Speaking of the possible location somewhere in the vicinity of Walnut Creek, Pleasant Hill, Lafayette or Concord, Mrs. Hellum said it should be accessible "to the greatest extent for service to branches and stations to supply them with books and for bookmobile service to all areas."

SHE CONTINUED, "The economy of service from a readily accessible central location is of value now and will become increasingly so."

The Sun in an exclusive last week, revealed that Mrs. Hellum recommended in a Master Plan report to the County Supervisors that three "regional" libraries be built, the largest in the central county area. The library will cost more than $1 million, and the site, books, equipment and parking may raise the figure to $2.5 millions.

Financing can come through a proposed bill which would raise the library levy from one mill to three mills in the county.

MRS. HELLUM commented that it would be unfair to communities which have raised money for community libraries to allocate such county levies for other community buildings, and the county money would logically go for county libraries.

Serum Enables Boy to Survive Rattler Venom

A 16-year-old Orinda boy has survived a rattlesnake bite thanks to emergency anti-venom carried by patrol cars from the sheriff's office.

Gary Beeman of 8 El Gavilan, Orinda, was bitten on the middle finger of the left hand last Saturday when he and his friend, John Dorn, attempted to capture a two-foot rattler.

Both boys are 16 and sophomores at Miramonte High School.

The boys managed to place the snake in a box and drive to the Orinda Fire Station.

Firement placed a constricting bandage on Beeman, and sheriff's patrol cars then rushed the serum to the office of a local doctor where Beeman was treated.

He was taken to Kaiser Hospital in Walnut Creek.

The snake has been killed and preserved as a trophy for young Beeman.

Woman Pleads Guilty to Petty Theft

Mrs. Marrilla M. Madden of 20 Estabuena, Orinda, pleaded guilty on May 23 in Walnut Creek Judicial Court to petty theft, after she was charged with issuing 21 "account closed" checks in the Bay area.

She was taken into custody on May 22, and signed a statement saying the checks were cashed in Walnut Creek, Orinda, Lafayette, Oakland and Berkeley.

The total sum of all 21 checks was $279.36, according to police reports. The matter was referred to the probation department.

Junior Museum Plans Active Season

Boys and girls again this year will have the opportunity to hear talks on natural science, take field trips and participate in a "Science Fair," under the sponsorship of the Diablo Junior Museum group.

"Lab sessions" and field trips will begin on June 24 for children nine years old and up at the East Contra Costa Junior College. Ferd Ruth of the college will instruct and show the large collection of skins and mounted animals kept there.

A "natural science workshop" will begin on the same day for boys and girls who are at least seven years old at the Walnut Creek School on Walnut Boulevard.

THE CAREFULLY supervised program for the younger people will include a "live animal loan" where harmless small animals will be loaned out for a week, after the students have received instruction on care and feeding.

Every young person has a natural and healthy curiosity about small animals, insects, birds and reptiles. The purpose of the Diablo Junior Museum, under the presidency of Alex Lindsay, is to satisfy that curiosity, and give the child a constructive knowledge.

Each young person beginning June 24 will attend a lab session and a field trip each week for six weeks at the Junior College. Or at the Walnut Creek School, he or she will hove one session per week of field and class work.

Parents may enroll their youngsters by sending in the attached form to Diablo Junior Museum, Seven Hills Ranch, Walnut Creek, California.

THE CLIMAX of the program will be a Science Fair on August 3. The location has not been determined yet.

The Junior College classes last year had 150 youngsters signed up. There were 235 at the Walnut Creek School.

Notification will be sent to parents, with assignments to classes. There are fees to cover materials and supplies kept by students.

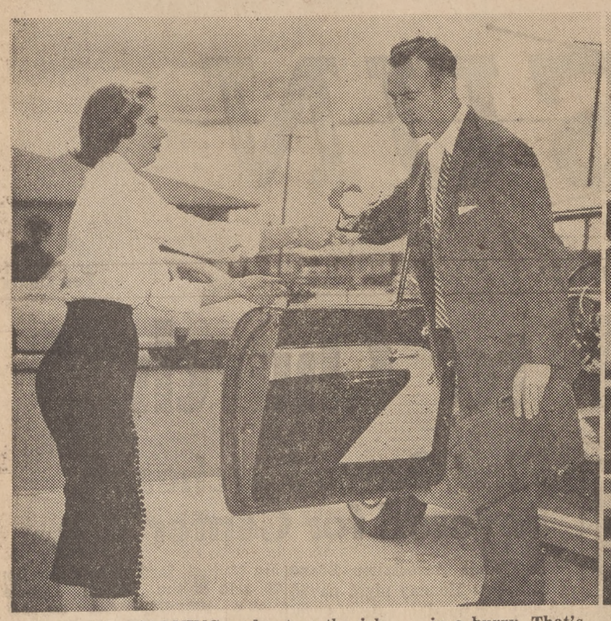
The Junior Museum is also aided by a Junior Museum Alliance, composed of women in the community who help out.

Officers of the Junior Museum are Lindsay, president; Mrs Owen Williams, vice president; Ferd Ruth, second vice president; Mrs. Frank Young, secretary, and Frank Young, treasurer.

The board of directors includes Sheldon Rankin, Philip Bancroft Jr., Matthew Connelly, John Nejedly, Mrs. Harmon Howard, E. C. Counter Jr., Mrs. Lindsay, Dr. Drummond McCunn and Floyd Buchanan, a school principal.

Do Your Pocketbook a Favor...Shop at Home and Save

It's All in a Day's Work for the Head of the Family...



UP IN THE MORNING and out on the job . . . in a hurry. That's Mr. Central Contra Costa County. Might say he is in a bit of a rush this morning as his wife helps him grab that second cup of coffee as he dashes out to the car.

BUT ALL IS NOT WELL as he finds, half way to the office, that his wife has been using the car again and not putting any gas in. Oh well, a certain amount of patience and the boss won't be too mad if Mr. Central Contra Costa County is a half hour late for work again.

BACK HOME AGAIN after a hard day, he is all set to do a little research work and perhaps finish up that book he started some months ago. — Whoops . . . all is not well, that lawn mower just has to be fixed and the yard needs cutting first.

OUR DAY IS ALMOST over for him. He's getting to that good book at last. But what is this? Oh, yes, that program that junior wanted to see has the whole family right in front of the T.V. set. They'll be glued right there until the late, late, late movie.

Colorama's Little Drama

THE COLOR ONCE ASSOCIATED only with little girls and/or big ones, has swept to a riotous recognition in our color-conscious country. Showing up first in men's shirts (AND shorts), invading the homefront via the kitchen and bathroom (where even the SOAP must be pink to match these days), NOW, more recently, trespassing the more masculine confines of carports and garages, PINK has made the grade!

WITNESS THE PINK HOUSE in Moraga Del Rey, where side by side in the pink garage, stand a sleek powder-pink Cadillac sedan (HERS?) next to a matching powder-pink GMC pickup truck (HIS?)..

STILL . . . we hear of one particularly masculine man who SO abhors the color that he will retreat in haste elsewhere to eat if a restaurant doles out his Beef Ragout on a pink plate. And he wouldn' dream of drinking coffee from a pink cup. His wife warns their friends.

We admire this male individuality in the midst of so much color conformity, but on the other handl, we know another manly gentleman who likes LAVENDAR on his convertible car. Where color is concerned, we ALL have our whims!

Take the reaction of some when the temperature's on the rise. Even the motorist gets hot under the collar when he pulls into that station where the attendants are now wearing blindingly-bright RED shirts

A FAMILIAR SIGHT ON THE ORINDA FAIRWAYS, a gentleman golfer dressed to the feet, from cap to cleats, in vivid RED. At least this is what he gamboled about the greens in during the winter months. Will his summer sartorial splash be more subtle? Something more soothing and cooler in color? Personally, we prefer drab olive drab to red.

A byline in hand worth two on the stands

Orinda Mother's Invention Now Available for Kids

This is the story of a remarkable young woman and a unique toy—Tumble Tub— her brain-child.

Barbara Sigerson of 10 Valley Drive, Orinda, is a housewife, the mother of three youngsters, an industrial designer, and the manufacturer (witht her energetic engineer husband, Donn Sigerson) of the Tumble Tub.

Invented by Barbara (who has the distinction of being one of the very few women ever to graduate from the California Institute of Technology at Pasadena), Tumble Tub is a whiz of an ingenious toy—a completely new departure in the toy field—combining the whirl of a merry-go-round with the delightful ups and downs of a teeter-totter.

So lightweight a small child can carry it, the toy is a sturdy, gaily colored, aluminum and steel tub with the bottom rounded to make it spin, tumble, or ride the waves in backyard pools.

EDUCATORS and therapists alike have indicated that Tumble Tub has both play and therapeutic value. Both hardy and handicapped children enjoy it—even the handicapped child can sit inside the tub and by rocking back and forth set it in motion. The toy's gyrations depend on how the young rider varies his covements. Tumble Tub helps youngsters with imparied vision by teaching them needed visual awareness of self in space.

What began as Barbara's bright idea, home-tested on her own three vigorous youngsters, has boomed into a business venture with every promise of success.

The Sigersons are an ideal engineering and design production team. Donn's background in mechanical engineering and business administration is the perfect complement for Barbara's in art and industrial design. (Together they constructed their charming modern home, complete with swimming pool and putting course.)

IN A SUPRISINGLY short time, It was right after World War II that Donn and Barbara made their two most important decisions. One, to get married. The second, to merge their talents in a business of their own. With their small savings, a lot of brains and determiniation, they started their own company—the Allwork Manufacturing Company of Oakland, California.

IN A SURPRISINGLY short time, they had built a successful business around Barbara's first idea, a design for a child's scooter. When this ran afoul of the steel shortage, enterprising Donn had another iron in the fire —the manufacture of shims for General Motors Chevrolet Division.

It was General Motors that first brought Tumble Tub to the attention of a welcoming public—in two-page advertising spreads that ran in Life, Time, Newsweek, Reader's Digest and Saturday Evening Post, telling the Sigerson's success story, "How a Young California Couple Built a Million - Dollar Business with Some Help from General Motors."

In the right-hand corner was a small picture of the Tumble Tub showing Sage and Saxie, the two very young Sigersons, having fun in it. Literally hundreds of readers wrote in to inquire if Tumble Tubs could be had, and where.

LATER, the Tumble Tub was shown briefly (40 seconds to be exact) on "Wide, Wide World" of NBC television fame, bringing 1200 inquiries by mail, phone and wire . . . they haven't stopped since.

So the Sigersons, who were planning an around-the-world since their marriage), decided to postpone it and go into active production and promotion of the Tumble Tub themselves.

Now, the eagerly awaited new toy is available at I. Magnin & Company. It comes in assorted colors and sells for $14.98.

Chamber Will Renew Effort To Build Sign

The Orinda Chamber of Commerce is renewing its efforts to locate an attractive entrance sign for Orinda it was brought out at a recent chamber luncheon meeting at Casa Orinda.

Robert Waschmirth of Moraga Valley Nursey offered his services and plants for landscaping the area around such a sign.

Waschmirth said he has a landscape man ready to design the sign, but needs a site and materials for building and lighting it.

Chamber president Merle Brown said that he and member Ramsay Underwood have a possible site in mind, but will have to work on the problem with the State Divivsion of Highways.

Waschmirth was commended by the Orinda Garden Club for his donation of plants to the local highway beautification program recently. The garden club recently planted the circle at the Crossrads.

President Merle Brown authorized secretary Clarence Betz to donate $45 of chamber funds to last week's Orinda Value Days event.

Orinda's New Library— A Project for All of Us

AN EDITORAL

Thanks to the hard work and generous spirit of many Orindans, a much-needed new home for the Orinda Library is today a big step nearer realization.

Selection of an architect is expected soon. The land, at the corner of Irwin Way and Orinda Highway, is reserved for the new library, by arrangement between the Orinda Association and the Orinda Library Board.

While the Orinda Library Board is consulting with architects, this appears to be an approprite time in which to express appreciation of the splendid work done over many months under the leadership of Perc S. Brown's able group.

As general chairman of the Orinda Library Building Fund, Brown supervised the raising of approximately $78,000 in cash and pledges.

Still needed is about $45,000.

About 1700 Orinda families have contributed. But some 873 Orinda homes have not yet done so—and to these, informative letters have been sent, urging support.

We join with the Orinda Library Building Fund in hoping that these more than 800 local families will join with their fellow-Orindans in supporting this eminently worthwhile community project.

It is also important that those families which have pledged sums but have not yet contributed the actual money, send in their contributions promptly.

The time is just about on hand to go ahead with the actual work on Orinda's new library.

The present quarters in the Orinda Community Church have long been outmoded—and "time's a-wastin'."

Lafayette By-Pass Will Probably Open on June 27

Probable opening date of the Lafayette By-Pass is June 27.

That was the word received this week from Homer Holmes, superintendent for contractor Gordon H. Ball, by the Lafayette Chamber of Commerce.

The Ball firm has been constructing the Lafayette By-Pass for the State Division of Highways since October, 1955.

THE 2.6-MILE, $3 million-plus project extends from Sunnybrook Drive on the west to the Pleasant Hill Road Interchange at the east, and runs north of Mt. Diablo Boulevard (the present state highway), at distances up to 1000 feet.

Originally the opening of the Lafayette By-Pass had been anticipated for early June or mid-June. However, recent rains delayed the work.

The by-pass is another portion of the developing Diablo Freeway, which will serve the rapidly growing areas of Central Contra Costa County.

FIRST PHASE of the Diablo Freeway to be completed was Orinda Interchange.

Next portion will be the Walnut Creek By-Pass.

Under the leadership of the Lafayette Chamber of Commerce, a ribbon-cutting program is being arranged for June 27 and a three-day Lafayette Freeway Fiesta will be staged June 28, 29 and 30.

AFTER OPENING of the Lafayette By-Pass to traffic, another month or so of final-detail work will remain to be done, according to the State Division of Highways.

However, this will not interfere with traffic on the by-pass it is pointed out.

Following completion of the by-pass, Mt. Diablo Boulevard will become a county road between its connections with the freeway.

LAFAYETTE BY-PASS, 2.6-mile, $3 million-plus project of the State Division of Highways, is rapidly nearing completion by contractor Gordon H. Ball of Danivlle. This aerial view is westward from the completed Pleasant Hill Road Interchange in the foreground. The "double-ribboned" freeway by-pass extends westward to the vicinity of Sunnybrook Drive. The present state highway, Mt. Diablo Boulevard, is shown south of the by-pass. Under the leadership of the Lafayette Chamber of Commerce, the community of Lafayette is planning an elaborate Lafayette Freeway Fiesta, to mark the opening of the by-pass to traffic, expected in mid-June.

Masterson County Judge Bill Wins Committee Vote

A bill for an additional superior judgeship was approved by the Assembly Judiciary Committee this week and now awaits action on the assembly floor.

The measure would provide for an additional judge who would sit in Richmond, using present municipal court facilities there.

ASSEMBLYMAN S. C. Masterson (D-Richmond), the bill's author, said that he expects the measure to be approved by the State Legislature.

Both the county board of supervisors and the county grand jury have urged that one new judgeship be created. Two new judges have been sought by the Contra Costa Countv Bar Association.

Masterson also took an indirect swipe at county officials for waiting until mid-April to propose a new judgeship.

"I never expressed opposition at any time to a new judgeship," he said. "I did state that a need should be clearly established and a place to house the judge found first."

"We met in January to introduce bills," the assemblyman said, "and at that time I had no request on the local level for a bill of this sort. I thought it a bit unusual to wait until mid-April before making the request."

Masterson, who has served both as a Richmond judge and councilman, said that the cost of establishing a judgeship without permanent housing would be $40,000 a year.

LEGISLATIVE

THE LEGISLATIVE Council has stated that two additional judges for Contra Costa County are necessary, according to Masterson.

But the board has contended that construction of new judicial facilities in Martinez would cost the county $100,000 in capital expenditure next year.

Masterson said that it would be possible for the board to meet in the planning commission rooms and the judge to sit in the present board rooms, an arrangement that would be "satisfactory."

OIL ENERGY

The weekly energy output of oil in the United States has been estimated to be the equivalent of more than 40 hours work by 22 billion people — which is 10 times the population of the world.

Letters to The Editor

"EYESORE"

Dear Editor:

The worst eyesore in Lafayette is maintained by the Lafayette Chamber of Commerce. It is the parking lot at the corner of Moraga Road and Moraga Boulevard. The grass and weeds along the sidewalk are so high that women can hardly walk through single file, without snagging their stockings. Also the grass and weeds on the inside of the lot are hgh and unsightly.

In unedrstand this lot is under lease to the Chamber of Commerce for a dollar year. If each person using the lot would pay about a dollar a year it would provide enough to apply weed killer along the walks to cut the grass and weeds inside the lot two or three times a year, and the property would no longer be an eyesore.

It seems as though the people who use the lot should be willing to pay a little something toward maintaining the property in a respectable condition.

Name withheld on request.

(The man is right. We will take care of it. However, $100 per year is what we pay East Bay Municipal Utility District for a lease.—Earle Pierce, president, Lafayette Chamber of Commerce.)

On an average, 2,500,000 new drivers have been licensed to operate motor vehicles every year since 1949.

Conflict of Interest Bill Set To Halt Insurance 'Pie'

A bill now before the governor's desk would prohibit legislators, state officers and state employees from accepting fees for placing state insurance business.

Authored by William Munnel, Los Angeles Democrat and minority floor leader in the assembly, the bill cleared the State Senate by a 29-2 vote May 17 although attacked as "discriminatory" by Senator George Miller Jr. (D-Martinez) and Donald Grunsky (R-Watsonville).

MILLER CHARGED that the measure was unfair because it restricted only those in the insurance profession and did not apply to other professions.

Grunsky accused Munnell of attempting to "embarrass" the Knight administration with the bill, which grew out of an interim assembly subcommittee investigation showing that some legislators received fees on state insurance without performing any services for the fees.

One of the legislators named in the report was Assemblyman Donald Doyle, Lafayette Republican.

BUT IN THE FINAL vote on the bill in the Senate both Miller and Grunsky joined other critics of the bill in voting for its passage.

One Senator who didn't was Fred Kraft (R-San Diego), an insurance agent who was once associated with a firm which shared in the insurance business from the state.

The present bill has the support of State Finance Director John Pierce, thus indicating that the Governor will probably sign the measure.

ANOTHER MEASURE co-authored by Assemblyman Harold Levering (R-Los Angeles) and Senator John Murdy (R-Huntington Beach) is being heard in the assembly in the finance and insurance committee.

This bill would prohibit all state employees, including legislators, from accepting any commissions "in connection with the purchase or lease by or to the state of goods, commodities or property, real or personal."

Originally offered by Murdy as an amendment to the Munnell bill, the measure is now being heard as a sparate bill.

Multi-Million Cut Faces School Aid Bill Says Miller

A cut in the $65 million school aid bill has been predicted by State Senator George Miller Jr., (D-Martinez) chairman of the Senate Education Committee.

Miller said Tuesday that the bill, Assembly Bill 3045, could be financed without new taxes.

BUT GOVERNOR GOODWIN Knight has maintained that new taxes were necessary to finance the bill.

Two weeks ago Knight reiterated his position with the statement that "no school bill will be approved by me, unless financing requirements are included."

Miller said that AB 3045 might be cut to as little as $22 million. This is less than Assemblyman Donald Doyle (R-Lafayette), assembly education chairman, has predicted.

DOYLE SAID LAST week that the final bill would be "about $49 or $50 million" and also indicated that it would probably be passed without financing measures.

Another estimate so far in the school bill's reduction is by Senator James McBride (D-Ventura) who said the cut could go as low as $35 million.

The bill is auhored by Ernest Geddes (R-Los Angeles) who has urged the passage of California Teachers Association - sponsored bills which would finance the school measure by increased cigarette and beer taxes.

H.S. District Costs Are On Sound Basis--Dr. Hall

(Editors note: This is the fourth in a series of articles on the Acalanes High School District and problems concerning its financing. Today's article concerns the operational costs of the district.)

Since schools account for a substantial part of our local property taxes, it seems worthwhile to examine the operating costs of the Acalanes High School District and the possible ways, if there are any, by which operations costs might be reduced.

This year 64 per cent of the money spent for operating our high schools will go to teachers' salaries, according to a report by Acalanes District Business Manager Ross Reagan.

Another 16 per cent will go toward the salaries of other district personnel: bus drivers, custodians, maintenance men and clerical staff.

Combined personnel salaries are 80 per cent of operating costs.

ONE WAY in which operating costs might be reduced would be to reduce teachers' salaries.

"The net effect of this kind of saving at a time when there is a national teacher shortage would almost certainly be a reduction in the quality of the teachers employed in our schools," says Dr. Ralph C. Hall of Orinda, a member of the Acalanes High School District Board.

"This would mean lowering the quality of instruction."

In addition to the effect on the children, teachers would face a reduction of pay "at a time when salaries are increasing in all fields and when the cost of living has reached new highs," Dr. Hall states.

"WAGES in the building and automobile industries have passed the $100 a week mark.

"At the same time, the average salary for teachers nationally this years is $4055, or approximately $340 per month.

"The fact that average salaries of teachers in California is somewhat above this figure probably accounts for the fact that we have a generally superior group of teachers in our schools."

ANOTHER WAY in which operating costs might be reduced would be to assign more pupils to each teacher.

"We would have fewer teachers and larger classes—but we would face a certain reduction in the quality of instruction which each pupil receives," Dr. Hall declares.

If salaries for all personnel make up 80 per cent of the operational budget, what happens to the other 20 per cent of operations costs?

THE OTHER 20 per cent is spent on textbooks, heating, lighting, maintenance, insurance and school bus service.

No real reductions can be made in these costs without reductions in service, Dr. Hall points out. He adds:

"School buses could be reduced or eliminated. However, the lack of sidewalks and hazardous walking conditions in our communities make this a questionable economy.

"Other services, such as heating, lighting, maintenance and books, are practically irreducible and are already pretty well held to the minimum."

OPERATING COSTS of the Acalanes High School District have been low in comparison with other comparable districts, Dr. Hall stresses.

"In comparison with other Contra Costa secondary districts, the Acalanes District was the lowest in two of the past five years and second lowest in the other three years," he observes.

"However, in spite of low operating costs, the tax rate needed to support our high schools has been higher than the tax rates in other secondary districts because the assessed valuation per pupil in our area is smaller.

"FOR EXAMPLE," the assessed valuation per pupil between the first and 12th grades in the Acalanes District area is approximately $6200 per pupil. The corresponding figure for Berkeley is $10,100, while in Oakland it is $10,300 and in San Francisco, it is $16,000 per pupil.

"In order to raise the same amount of money in the Acalanes District area as is raised in Oakland, the local school tax rate must be almost double the rate in Oakland.

"In order to raise as much money per pupil as is raised in San Francisco, the rate needs to be considerably more than twice the rate in San Francisco.

THE CURRENT tax rate for the Acalanes District is $1.96 per $100 of assessed valuation on property.

Of this total, 35 cents is for bond retirement used for construction of classrooms, 31 cents is used currently for school construction and $1.30 for operation costs.

Because of the rapid growth in population, it is necessary to spend approximately one-third of our high school tax rate for school construction, Dr. Hall explains.

"A 12-month school year has been mentioned as a possibility for reducing school costs," Dr. Hall remarks.

"While operating schools on a year-round basis would reduce building costs, it would not reduce operating costs. Teachers would have to be paid more; utilities, maintenance and transportation costs would also increase.

"ONE OF THE difficulties in a year-round program is that parents with two or more children may find that one child has a vacation in the summer and the other in the winter or fall. This poses problems for parents and constitutes one of the major objections to year-round schools.

"In considering our tax bill for schools, it should be remembered that under present laws, the state pays for part of the cost of operating schools and the rest is paid by local property taxes.

"Since the amount on taxable property is low, taxpayers may want to consider the possibility of enriching the tax base and thereby reducing the burden on the invidual home owner.

"TAXES on the individual homeowner can only be reduced by increasing the amount of business, commercial or industrial property within the district's boundaries.

"Perhaps one of the basic questions is whether or not the taxpayers in the community want to reduce their taxes in this way, and if so, to what extent?

"As for the operational costs of the Acalanes District, consistent with the operation of a sound educational program, the operational expenditures of the district have been subjected to a constant scrutiny for economy.

"According to the district trustees, just about all that can be done to maintain standards of the educational program and yet economize on expenditures is being done."

As we all know by now, the weather has at last turned, so now we can complain about the the extreme heat. Ever sit in a car for several hours after it has been exposed to a high temperature? If I don't lose weight after a few days of this, it isn't because I don't want to!

SHADE

A lot of people around this area will have the Utah Construction Co. and Mr. Barnes, Moraga's Utah representative, to thank in the years to come for shade and flowers on a hot day, for they were giving shade tree startings and flower plants away to all comers, and there were plenty of comers.

Although the gift wasn't advertised, news by word of mouth can travel fast and far. This is a yearly project to beautify the countryside, and is over for this year.

CLUB MEET

My report on the past Moraga Community Club meeting held last Friday night at the Moraga School, is a good one.

A very enthusiastic turnout, bouth from Old Moraga and Rheem Valley Estates proved a lot of people are still interested in keeping up on developments in the growing community.

An interesting report was given by Mrs. Louise Lynch and Mrs. Florence Huff, both serving on the Civic Affairs Committee, on the luncheon meeting given by Utah Developers for the County Planning Commission, purpose to familiarize them with our area.

There will be one more regular meeting next month, before the summer season is officially in. Plans are under way at the present time for the yearly club party. Date set for this big project, is July 13, so be sure to set it aside and plan to attend.

MOTHERS CLUB

Also want to remind you to set aside June 5, when the Moraga Mother's Club will hold their final meeting of the year, at the home of Mrs. Jerry Tarpley, who is the new president-elect for next year. As the last meeting is installation of officers, it calls for a celebration, so we are looking for a good turnout. Cards will be sent out.

MORE CLUB

A good money-raising project brought results last week, when Mother's Club members were roused from their beds and various places about 7:30 a.m. and invited to a "Come as you are" Coffee at the home of Mrs. Pat Heigen, Scofield Drive.

Admission fee was 1 cent per inch around the hips, and also other fines were imposed for hair-curlers, robes, etc. Approximately 40 women attended and I understand the coffee was good. Hum—an easy way to raise money, don't you think?

Plans are going ahead for the graduation of the Moraga School eighth grade. Always an exciting time, both for the kids and the parents. I am getting it, too, but my daughter, Caroline is finishing Acalanes High School. She tells at the Senior Banquet, held last Friday night, the teachers waited on tables, the theme being "Springtime In Paris," and who was tripping the light fantastic while carrying a tray, but "Matt" Mattson.

A lot of us know him as Pear Inspector summers, for the local ocrhards, while a lot of the kids know him also as coach at Acalanes High School. He also writes the sport stories for our own Sun.

A HAPPY BIRTHDAY to Miss Marlene Huff, of Larch Road, who celebrates her sixth birthday June 5, and also to Mrs. Louisa Larch, also of Larch Road, who will be one year older on June 5, but I won't ask her which year this is, for after all, a woman never grows old anyhow. Congratulations to you both.

Visitors at the Dr. Morgenstern home on Rheem Boulevard, were Mary Lou's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Evans, of Pocatello, Idaho. Mr. Evans is a retired YMCA secretary, and he and his wife have found a wonderful way to live.

They have bought a trailer house and are planning many interesting trips. But, they also plan to wander back this way now and then.

Moraga School Sets Grad Date

Moraga Elementary School has set the date for the graduation ceremony to be June 13 at the Moraga School for the 11 youngsters, 3 boys and 8 girls.

Social activities included a picnic swimming party for the class, held at the Carroll Ranch, May 24. Although the weather was cloudy and cold, the outing was held as scheduled.

In celebration of the coming event, parents of the graduates will entertain the class and 5 graduating boys from other schools, for dinner-dancing at the El Nido, the evening of June 7.

County Should Act On Suggestions for Economy

In a time when every effort seems to be directed toward the steady increase of expenditures on the part of governmental bodies, it is refreshing to find an oasis that calls for econmy.

But it is even more refreshing to find that the call for economy is backed with concrete suggestions as to how to achieve this end.

The Contra Costa Taxpayers' Association met in conference recently, and it pointed the way to controling costs in the county . . . or at least one way.

The result would show on our tax bills, so the least we can do is consider their remarks.

The association recommended:

1. That the County Board of Supervisors not permit establishment of any new special districts during 1957-58 unless absolutely necessary to preservation of public health and safety.

2. That the County Board of Education call a conference of school officials to consider reductions in the costs of pupil transportation, school construction, administration and purchasing.

3. A study be made by all local governmental bodies on the merits of establishing "central service departments" to combine functions such as mailing, multilithing, purchasing, special clerical work and others.

We think that these recommendations are sound, and that it is the duty of the board of supervisors, as our representatives, to do everything in its power to economize.

Taxes are increasing each year, and the recent across-the-board increase in the county's assessed valuation, imposed by the state, did not help the local situation any.

The only answer is economy on the lowest level, thus carrying through each department, up to the full county level, where it will be reflected on our tax bills as a lower tax rate.

Let us use a simile to demonstrate the situation.

A homeowner who finds that his bills are approaching too close to his total income, leaving nothing for savings or recreation has only two choices. He must increase his income or cut down on the bills.

Now frequently the county has operated from the standpoint of increasing the income . . . that is, increasing taxes, rather than cutting down on the "bills."

We urge that each county official, and especially the board of supervisors, pay close attention to the recommendations of the Contra Costa Taxpayers' Association.

We urge that each person involved not only pay attention, but ACT on the recommendations, and investigate each department to see where improvements can be made now.

And we, as taxpayers, should thank the taxpayers' association for "being on the ball" . . . for doing its job well.

The problem has been presented to those in charge . . . now let's see that something is done about it.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:

I want to thank Lee Walden for his compliment on my being an expert on fluoridation.

For eight years I have studied nutrition under some great doctors. For the last three years I have been attending classes on nutrition every week.

So I think I am expert enough to know what, even the smallest amount of poison. will do to the body.

I wonder if Lee Walden knows thata chlorine treats the "body." If Lee Walden wants fluorine, that's his privilege.

He can get a prescription from any doctor. But I don't see why my family must be forced to take his medicine. This is a free country I hope. Don't we have freedom of choice anymore?

Yes, I object to pasteurized milk. My boys drink certified "raw" milk. If Lee Walden is so concerned about his children's teeth, he should feed them properly.

Because of proper nutrition, my boys do not have a cavity in their mouths. For five years, my boy has never missed a day of school, third grade through seventh.

He has never had a child disease in his life. Could you say the same, Lee Walden?

The American Medical Association "does not" endorse fluoridation. Anyone can write to the AMA and find out for himself.

New York turned down fluoridation several motnhs ago. I wonder why? If fluoridation is not mass medication, what is it?

Anyone who wants the true story on fluoridation should write to the "Pure Water Association of America," PO Box 600, Palo Alto, Calif.

MRS. JOHN JEFFREY

ON HEALTH PROGRESS

DEAR EDITOR:

When Mrs. Jeffrey speaks of education, she has struck upon a subject of which I have more than a passing interest.

Concerning the progress of public health within the last 50 years I make reference to the following publications locally available:

"Public Health Administration in the United States," by Smillie. (MacMillan).

"Public Health in the World Today," by Simmons. (Harvard University).

"Public Health Organization." Publication of the White House Conference on Public Health. (Appleton).

I will submit further references at a later date.

I challenge Mrs. Jeffrey to cite an authoritative study which sustains the thesis that distilled water of itself has any noticeable effect upon the dental health of individuals.

Proper diet and hereditary influences have a great deal to do with the absence or presence of dental caries.

Fluoridation is in its 13th year as a public health measure and has demonstrated repeatedly that dental decay can be prevented by as much as 65 per cent through fluoridation of the water supply. (Printed statement available from the Division of Dental Health, Health Department, Contra Costa County.)

Of the many thousands who have have endorsed fluoridation, it is heartening to know that among health groups in our county alone we can list the Contra Costa Dental Society, Alameda-Contra Costa Medical Association, Health Department-Contra Costa County, Alameda-Contra Costa Optometric Association and the Contra Costa Tuberculosis and Health Association.

Our Children Should Be Protected in Courts

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

Several weeks ago I wrote a column about a local sex perverson case involving a local boy, seven and a half years old. The mother filed charges, despite the discouraging efforts of the county district attorney's office. The child spoke freely to police officers, at first but was reticent in conversations at the D.A.'s office. By the time the court hearing was held, the child was so scared that he wouldn't say a word and the case was dismissed.

Yesterday I received another letter about another local case. It raises some pertinent questions of vital interest to parents and the community at large. Here is the letter:

"We read your editorial of May 17 and found it interesting and true. We can say this because we ourselves were recently involved in a morals case in which we were the plaintiffs.

"We have much sympathy for the mother and her seven-and-a-half year-old son who sought help. We too, for awhile ,felt as though we were in a blind alley, nowhere to turn. If it were not for a group of people who spent much time and effort in investigatings and haunting the district attorneys' office, we would not have accomplished as much as we did.

Who is on trial?

"As the law now stands, morals cases that involve juveniles are held in criminal court. We feel this is wrong. The youngsters are subjected to clever defense lawyers who work hard to confuse and upset them. The youngsters finally reach a point where they no longer remember what they said a few moments earlier. No wonder so many guilty men are acquitted, if indeed, the trial gets that far without a dismissal!

"Cases of this sort should be held in juvenile court, where the child would be more at ease, with people trained to understand him. These cases should be handled with swift justice, so that contamination will not linger to settle upon the juvenile plaintive.

"If the law could be changed, we feel more parents would prosecute, and there would be less molesting of children. Our main fear is that one of our children will be mained or killed. It has happened before.

Are juvenile records public?

"We have one other view to express. When a youngster has broken the law, been detained by the police, and has paid in full for that mistake, realizes that he has done wrong, is working hard and succeeding in becoming a good citizen, we feel that his past records, no matter in what department they may be, police department or sheriffs' office, should be strictly confidential and released only upon a court order.

"To our knowledge, there are no laws preventing a private citizen from obtaining juvenile records from the police department or sheriff's office. This enables many unscrupulous people to use them for their own selfish gains should they be accused in a case of this sort and the juvenile plaintiff has a past.

"The effect on the youngster involved, shaking his faith and beliefs in authorities he thought he could trust, can do untold harm. We would like to see a state law legislated, which would prevent confidential information on juveniles under 16 being obtained from any department through other than a court order.

"If you can use these views, please do. We would like our name withheld, though, in concern for our child. We feel he has gone through enough, and we will be living here a long time.

What do you think?

Well, doesn't that make you think?

I certainly agree that in such cases children should be treated as children and special provisions should be made for such interviews, hearings and trials.

I do not believe new legislation is needed to protect records pertaining to juveniles. Our present laws prohibit people from having access to such records, except with approval of the judge of the juvenile court.

I checked this with out county juvenile office and they confirmed it. Of course, there are always ways of getting information and this is probably the problem.

I guess we are no longer a small country town. Let's face it—increasing sex perversion problems is a result of our growth. Schools, parent groups and law enforcement authorities are aware of it. Children are being educated about strange men, etc.

The problem can be controlled. However, it certainly requires alert policing, aggressive prosecution by our district attorney, sympathetic approach by our judges, as well as continuing community awareness.

Of Weather, Chasing Dogs, And County Shenanigans

By PAT PENDING

WEATHER—TO BE OR NOT TO BE!

Well, we had a little rain last week didn't we? I won't say that we had flood conditions but I saw a robin the other morning carrying swim fins, an aqua-lung, and a worm gun!

* * * *

When I moved here four years ago (everybody almost has moved here from somewhere) we really had a hot spell. It was dry too. I don't know if there was a heat record established that year but I saw a walnut tree chasing a police dog down Clayton Road! Would have caught it—except its limbs gave out. I know it was a police dog because it belongs to a neighbor of mine and it barks all night—calling all curs!

* * * *

QUESTION

Are the unsigned letters against fluoridation of water being written by local dental surgeons? Are dentists happiest when they are looking down in the mouth?

* * * *

The shrimp harvest in the Gulf of Mexico will be poor this year due to abnormal weather conditions. Some blame the unusual weather on the hydrogen bomb tests. Obviously, the shrimp will be a little short. Do you suppose the fission is effecting the fishin'?

One atomic scientist was a bit disturbed over the unusual occurences. I don't say that he went nuts but they picked him up while he was wandering around in he Posey Tube hunting for the flower beds!

* * * *

The County Planning Commission is going to inspect 6500 acres in Clayton Valley. Is it to see how many service stations they can cram in? This has nothing to do with the weather except to show the way the wind blows through the county seat.

Our planning commission is very thoughtful when considering the public interest. That's why they sent a citizen of Oakley a notice of hearing after the hearing was held. It saved him having to drive to Martinez to find out his request for a zoning change had been refused.

* * * *

If there are many more shenangians at the County Seat, I understand that the government will designate Martinez as a hysterical monument.

* * * *

And, by the way, I will give up my seniority if anyone will pay me $12 a month. Record this, please!

* * * *

If you like this column, will you write this newspaper and say so?

Do You Recall Pre--58?

By NORMAN COLBY

Whether or not I'll find fame in future years, I'll have at least one good story to tell when the "young 'uns" gather round. I'll be able to reminisce about pre-1958 central Contra Costa County—the "old days!"

Some of you may remember—before they built that big library in the area, the one that cost over two million dollars. Now, people come from every where to browse, to read and just to admire the biggest library in the county. Its a beauty!

And many of you doctors may recall when there was no private hospital in the area, and sick folks depended on the Kaiser Hospital in Walnut Creek, the Concord Community Hospital or else facilities out of the area. "Standing room only" was the watchword; now its "quick service," thanks to the construction of the new private hospital which has taken a great deal of the pressure off the other medical units. Doctors and laymen worked hard to overcome the financial obstacles!

Those early days before 1958 were tough on the family too, when members wanted to get out in the wide open spaces. The parks were small, and the resorts crowded. But our park covering thousands of acres in the San Pablo Dam area has become a boon—an island in a sea of third-acre and quarter-acre housing. And local business has benefitted too. And there is plenty of room for residents and visitors.

And the people using the library, the hospitals and all the other new facilities unknown in the pioneer era of pre-1958 enjoy ease of travel. This is due to the road construction, the crowning achievement of which is the Walnut Creek Bypass—one of the biggest single projects undertaken in the State of California.

The new folks may find it hard to believe but it used to get a little crowded on Mt. Diablo Boulevard. They were all ready to create a "Be Kind to Commuters Week" until the galaxy of interchanges and multi-ribboned roads were completed. The focal point is on Mt. Diablo Boulevard where the old Sheriff's substation used to be. That three level interchange which is now part of the skyline is the second biggest in the state!

Now and then you still run across one of those old buildings which used to be a store in the pre-1958 days, but it won't be long before they are all disposed of. Planning by city and county officials has given the area a "new look" studied by observers not just in the state, but by visitors from everywhere.

They exclaim at our ability to stay abreast of the times with our drive-in supermarkets, drive-in banks, drive-in theaters, drive-in clothing stores, drive-in snack bars, and drive-in drive in's.

They have also expressed great interest in our "crash garages" which are located periodically along the freeways and are so handy in this helicopter age. When an automobile driver by means of his ground-to-air mirror spots a helicopter in trouble, he can reach in a matter of seconds one of those bomb-proof plastic shelters, which also is equipped with television, refreshments and the usual garage facilities.

Yes, I'll have a ball telling about that pre-1958 period of development in Contra Costa County. Even now, it seems like people then were ruggeder, more individualistic, had more push, enjoyed life more, didn't worry so much about security and such. They were busy creating a new world. They had no time for pettiness.

Letters to The Editor

MORE ON DOGS

Dear Editor:

If petitioning is necessary in order to have dogs restrained, I will eagerly go from door to door. The list will be long.

We are absolutely sick and tired of damage done to our property by dogs from surrounding neighborhoods.

The dog owners in our immediate neighborhood do a wonderful job of restraining their pets: They are people who care and it shows. We have a clean, friendly street.

The owners of these roaming dogs have no right to them. If they loved their dogs, they wouldn't allow them to run free, to be subject to any hazard that might befall them.

The attitude of these dog owners certainly must be "I don't care." Well! Perhaps soon they won't care about their house payments or rent and they will move. I pray that they care enough to take their dogs with them! Good riddance! . . .

P.S. We own two restrained dogs. We love them.

Mrs. EDNA BURKE

WILLOW PASS ROAD

Dear Editor:

I have been using the Willow Pass Road Extension between Pleasant Hill and Concord since the first day it was opened and would like to comment on the number of times it has required repairs. There have been many large holes in the pavement and crews have been working on them at least once a week.

These crews are employed by the county and paid by the taxpayers of the county.

If the road was not built properly, it would seem that it would be the responsibility of the contractor to repair it.

Assuming that the fault lies with county engineers, who did not calculate the rate of sinkage of the marshland the road was built on, I have been wondering what will happen to the road when the "Concord Industrial Park" is built and occupied and heavy trucks use the road regularly.

If this situation continues, the repairs will eventually cost as much as the original expenditure for the road.

I would appreciate an answer in this column, if anyone has one.

Name Withheld by Request

EDITOR'S NOTE: See story in front section of The Sun on the Willow Pass Road repairs.

HOUSING AUTHORITY

Dear Editor:

A common fact in our political life is that an individual who is caught doing something wrong is dealt with in a simple, direct way.

A member of some group, a political "machine" or one who can hire lawyers can so often cloud the issue that he is not investigated when charged with a crime.

The issue can be clouded with counter charges and explanations, and the whole matter bogged down and hushed up.

Since the opportunities are much better in the Housing Authority of Contra Costa County for enriching of private fortunes at our expense than they are in the County Recorder's Office it should get our attention.

Especially is this so when charges have been made which implicate some commissioners and they are attempting to thwart an investigation.

After the war a large quantity of "surplus" was turned over to the county, in addition to the buildings and properties composing the housing authority.

Since none of this was ever sold at public auction, whatever became of it? There was more than some pipes and a scooter—a lot more.

How many of them have police records? When will an accounting (an honest accounting) of housing authority property be made? And when will it be publisized?

I, for one, would like answers to these questions — and then I have some more.

ROBERT KEEN

Safety Brings Refund to County Schools

It pays to be safe, the schools of Contra Costa County have learned.

County Superintendent B. O. Wilson today announced receipt of a check for $45,566, representing a 52.5 per cent refund by the State Compensation Insurance Fund of the premium paid in the year ending July 1, last year.

In conveying the check to Wilson's office, General Manager Earl R. Howard of the Fund praised the "remarkable safety record" of the schools and commented that "the earning of a dividend of this size is truly indicative of the stress eing placed on safe workng practices by all the employees."

Wilson explained that an insurance pool is operated to effect a lower premium that would be possible under individual policies carried by the 34 school districts. The refund wll be prorated and credited to the various districts.

Women Discover Joys Of Painting; Win Prizes

Mrs. George Madsen and Mrs. Albert V. Myatt are two local women who enrolled several months ago in the painting classes sponsored by the Walnut Creek Branch of the American Association of University Women.

Neither had ever painted before nor felt that they had any ability in the painting arts. Both of them had a healthy curiosity about a completely new field.

Mrs. Madsen is a busy mother of four children, and one of the trustees of the Walnut Creek public schools. Her college work had been in psychology so that she began to paint with no preconceived ideas and no experience.

LAST WEEK her painting in oils titled, "Small Boy," took the third award at the Art Exhibit held in connection with the California State Convention of the American Association of University Women in Pasadena. Artists contributed from throughout the state. This was her third canvas.

A graduate in nursing, Lorraine Myatt is another complete beginner at painting. Mrs. Myatt and her husband, Dr. Albert V. Myatt, arrived in Walnut Creek last July from New Orleans.

Intrested in meeting new people and curious about painting with which she had had no previvous experience, Mrs. Myatt entered the same AAUW art class under insturctor, Betty Pleshe.

She chose as her medium, opaque water color, and this week received first prize from the Diablo Pageant of Arts for her painting of "Sam's Corner," the familiar grocery at the intersection of Newell Avenue, Boulevard Way and Tice Valley Blvd.

DISCUSSING their experiences in a new art form, Mrs. Madsen said, "Painting has sharpened my preception and caused me to see things I never saw before, line, color and shape. It is mentally stimulating and tremendous fun."

Mrs. Myatt, whose paintings are prized possessions in a new home, commented: "It is the type of instruction that counts.

"Some people are gifted in being able to show you a whole new idea. It is impossible to describe the satisfaction of being able to transmit your ideas for others to see."

Heads Adult Class Association

William Ostrom of West Contra Costa Junior College last week was elected president of the Contra Costa County Adult Education Association, succeeding Arthur Dambacher of Acalanes Union High School District.

Ostrom is assistant dean of instruction and coordinator of part-time students' classes at the west campus. Vice President is T. M. Honea, principal of Pittsburg Evening High School.

They were chosen by unanimous ballot of the association at a luncheon meeting in the Y Club, Martinez, following a report of nominating committee members, Elmer McCormick of Richmond and William Thrasher of Mt. Diablo Unified.

Verle C. Henstrand, East Contra Costa Junior College, was introduced by Charles Chapman as his successor while Chapman is on leave next year.

Also introduced was Dwight R. Crum, regional supervisor of distributive education, State Department of Education. He spoke on the services provided by the bureau and distrbuted copies of its publications.

The association's first 1957-58 meeting will be held in conjunction with a barbecue in late August or early September at the home of Charles Ferrell, consultant in industrial arts and vocational education for Contra Costa County schools, at Walnut Creek.

Pack 234 Cubs Receive Awards

Cub Pack 234 held its monthly meeting last Friday night at the Walnut Cree School. Den 1 and Den 3 put on skits following the theme of the month, "Cub Scout Fireman."

The following boys received awards: Uhl Lichens, Bruce Silberman, Duane Freize, Roger Ingram, Richard Kalsbeek, Russell Kalsbeek and John Viers.

Denner stripes were awarded to David Hungerford, Thomas Bray and Donald Miller.

Elliot Ingram, a member of Scout Troop 234, received his Den Chief Cord. Presiding over the meeting was Cubmaster Daren Hillery.

"AIN'T WE GOT FUN?" That seems to be the mood of these members of the Tanager Unit of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center as they get ready for the Tanagers' annual bridge luncheon to be given next Thursday at nine Orinda homes. Decorations and food will be in Hawaiian theme. The Islands motif is demonstated by, left to right, Mrs. Edith Willes, in charge of arrangements; Mrs. Richard Leland, general chairman of the event, and Mrs. S. Dwight Skaggs, in charge of food.,

Engagement Announced For Shelley, Nootbar

Wedding plans have been announced for Miss Lois Maxine Nootbar and Charles Peter Shelley, the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Shelley of 2801 Cowell Road, Concord.

Miss Nootbar is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Nootbar of Antioch and is now a senior at Antioch High School.

She has been active in music while at the school, both as a drummer and as a member of the marching band.

Four California wineries are contributing the 20 wines to be tasted, and these will range from the pale dry whites to the dark, full-bodied reds. Information about each wine will be provided, and bread and cheese will be served between tastings, Mrs. E. J. Cardin Jr. of Lafayette, social chairman, said.

How police dragnets go into action

You've probably seen police detectives launch many a case on television or in the movies with an All Points Bulletin. But did you realize you were watching your telephone system swing into action at the same time? The Teletype networks that carry police "APBs" are put in and maintained by telephone people. These nets link hundreds of real-life law enforcement agencies on the Coast. They're used to exchange facts on police cases. News services, air lines, and many others use similar hook-ups. Teletype networks are one of the services we offer as part of our communications job.

Mobile telephones are another service we offer. They have lots of uses in cars, taxis, trucks. We also supply private-line phone systems, used by many government agencies and businesses to link offices and plants. Special services like these provide communications of many kinds that are vital to your everyday life.

Your Garden

Do You Have Shade? Ferns Are Eager for it!

By THE GARDENER

IF YOU HAVE an area of total shade in your garden, consider yourself fortunate.

Take advantage of the situation by planting ferns and other plants that thrive in deep shade.

Although there are some ferns that will survive in locales with only partial shade, the majority of them prefer deep shade with a moist cool bed for their roots.

The most important cultural requirements for ferns, after shade, are perfect drainage and soil that is well aerated to make room for spreading roots.

FERNS OFTEN have a root spread comparable to their height or larger; for example, a 6-foot fern can have a 10-foot spread.

The roots grow shallow and even above the ground, so take care in lanting to not place the roots too deep.

The ideal soid for growing ferns is a moist, leafy one; ferns can also be successfully grown in mixtures of fir and redwood sawdust or woodchips.

These planting media will hold moisture for a long time. Fish meal added to the soil during the growing season is beneficial.

IN PRUNING FERNS it is best to wait until new growth has begun in spring before cutting back old fronds (branches).

In the fall ferns make root growth and use the food stored in old fronds.

During the winter, the old fronds often fall and form a protective mulch for new spring growth.

Ferns can be handsomely combined in shade plantings with azaleas, rhododendrons, fuchsias and camellias.

PLANT THEM under the deep shade of a group of trees, in dark corners against the house or as a background for small shrubs.

There are some ferns that grow tree-size and these are attractive in tubs or under high-branching trees.

There are many fern varieties to choose from; the Western Sword Fern (Polystichum munitum) is an evergreen, quite hardy, and grows attractively in tufts.

FOR AN INTERESTING outline or silhouette, the unusual Hart'sTongue (Phyllitis Scolopendrium makes an attractive planting.

The sensative Fern (Onoclea sensibilis) froms a lush carpet of summer greenery. This is a creeping type of fern that prefers an extremely moist planting location.

Other plants that will give you a carpet of greenery in shade are the Cornet Bugle (Ajuga reptans), Baby's Tears (Helxine Soleirolii), the Jewel Mint of Corsica (Mentha Requienii) and the Yerba Buena (Micromeria Chamissonis).

The Diablo Women's Garden Club will motor by bus and private car to Sunset House in Menlo Park for a meeting on Wednesday.

The garden editor of Sunset House will take the members on a tour of the grounds and buildings.

Christian Science

Man's God-given dominion over evil of every kind will be set forth at Christian Science services Sunday.

Christian Science churches in this area are located at 22 Orinda Highway, Orinda, and 1347 Locust Street, Walnut Creek. The Christian Science Society of Pleasant Hill meets at the Hillcrest Congregational Church on Gregory Lane.

The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Ancient and Modern Necromancy alias Mesmerism and Hypnotsim, Denounced" will include the following passages from Ephesians (5:6, 11): "Let no man deceive you with vain words: for because of these things cometh the wrath of God upon the children of disobedience . . . And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather reprove them."

Readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following (571: 15-18): "At all times and under all circumstances, overcome evil with good. Know thyself, and God will supply the wisdom and the occasion for a victory over evil."

The Golden Text is from Proverbs (21:30): "There is no wisdom nor understanding nor counsel against the Lord."

Aubudon Group Will Meet on Thursday Eve

A monthly meeting of the Mt. Diablo Audubon Society will be held Thursday evening in Room 201, Las Lomas High School, Walnut Creek.

C. E. "Monte" Monesees, teacher at the Richmond branch of the junior college, will be the guest speaker. His subject will be the life of John Muir, naturalist.

Monsees will also show the film, "Muir Trails," photographed by Barbara Lechelt, former biology teacher at Acalanes High School, who has spent several summer vacations on Mt. McKinley.

These pictures were shown recently in conjunction with the dedication ceremonies of John Muir Park in Wisconsin near the site of Muir's boyhood home.

The meeting is open to the public.

On June 9, the society will make a field trip into the Bollinger Canyon area back of St. Mary's College. The time and meeting place will be 9 a.m., on the college parking area, beyond the gymnasium.

The morning will be spent "birding," returning at lunchtime to the college grove picnic grounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Couden are trip leaders. For any further information call YE 4-6744.

Weekends are the most dangerous time to be on U.S. highways. In 1956, more than 56 per cent of all fatalities occurred on Friday, Saturdays and Sundays.

Diablo Wins 1957 Division Baseball Title

Devils Take Two For DVAL Crown Windup Contests

Mt. Diablo High School coasted to an easy 8-1 win last Friday over Pacifica last Friday at Concord City Park to win the baseball championship of the Contra Costa Division of the Diablo Valley Athletic League.

The champs finished the season with a flossy 10-2 record on the strength of a Tuesday 3-3 victory over third-place Antioch, the second victory of the year over the tough Panther team.

IN FRIDAY'S CONTEST, the last place Spartans experienced their season-long trouble of getting base hits against Diablo ace Ron Lichti who registered a three hitter while striking out 11.

Al Burton, Pacifica lefthander, was reached for nine hits but was also victimized by five Spartan errors. Two of these miscues combined with three Diablo hits to give the Concord team a four run first inning lead they never relinquished.

Pacifica's lone run game in the fourth inning when the Sparatans bunched two of their three hits, Wally Coffman singling and Jim Anderson doubling him home.

DIABLO ADDED TWO runs in the fourth, aided by another Pacifica error, and scored single tallies in the fifth and sixth innings.

Jim Liggett paced the Devil attack with three hits in five trips including a fourth inning triple. Verle Sidwell and Rod Atnip had two hits apiece for the winners.

The win gave Ron Anaclerio's Devils an outright DVAL division title following a 1956 co-championship. Last year they shared the title with Acalanes.

THE TUESDAY CONTEST at Antioch was a better ball game for all its lack of championship drama.

Art Pargament, Diablo shortstop, climaxed the last high school game with a mid-game grand slam home run to account for all his team's run in the 4-3 conquest of the Panthers.

The one run win typified the come-from-behind, win-the-close ones style of play which characterized the Diablo champs this season.

The Concord team lost only to Pleasant Hill and Acalanes during the regular season, and they averaged these losses in later games. The other contenders, Pittsburg and Antioch, both lost twice to the Red Devils.

A BIG DAY is ahead for these local golfers who will enter the first annual Women's Regional Golf championships at Tilden Regional Park golf course. The ladies, left to right, are Mesdames L. W. Garner of Orinda, A. J. Kride and Larry Tinker, both of Lafayette. Standing is Richard Walpole of Berkeley, tourney director.

Dons Knock Rams 7-1

The Acalanes Dons made it four in a row last Friday after noon when they rapped the Pleasant Hill Rams 7-1 in a league game played at Pleasant Hill.

Earlier in the season the Dons had defeated the Rams 1-0 when Mike Krischer of the Dons and Mike Cereda of the Rams had hooked up in a tight pitching duel.

THE GAME rained out earlier in the week found the two taking to the mound again but it was the Dons from the opening inning when they tallied three runs and widened the margin as the game went on.

Cereda gave up but six hits but they came at the time when they counted most plus the fact that Cereda walked an even dozen and his teammates added three errors to keep him in hot water a good part of the game.

THE DONS SCORED their runs in the first frame when with one down Gary Hansen walked and Dave Bojarsky singled. Rich Markstein drew a bass on balls to load the bases. Larry Smart hit a deep fly to right with Hansen tagging up and scoring on the play.

Jim Dinkel and Dennis Combs followed with successive singles to score Bojarsky and Markstein.

THE DONS added run four in the 4th and three more in the top of the seventh.

The Ram run came in the bottom of the 7th when Gary Scott drew a base on balls and scored after stealing second when Bill Dutton singled.

Cereda had the best of it in the strikeout column as he noticed 10 to 4 to Kritscher. Kritscher however yielded only three hits and gave up but one walk.

Tightness of the Dons defense was proven by the fact that only three Rams reached first base and only one got any farther.

Berkeley Has North Coast Track Honor

The North Coast Section Track Meet held at Edwards Field on the campus of the University of California at Berkeley found Berkeley High in their own back yard and they evidently felt "right at home" as they rolled to a run away win.

The Berkeley Yellowjackets ammased a grand record breaking total of 58 points. The previous high was Alameda's 48 scored in 1954.

RECORDS WENT by the boards when Piedmont's Keith Wallace toured the mile in 4:26.5. Coborn Russ, Berkeley point guide, tied the high hurdle mark by clearing the barriers in :14.5.

One of the meet's highlights was when Berkeley's Fred De Witt nosed out San Ramon's Bill McMillen with a :48.7 clocking in the 440.

Three places qualified for the State Track meet to be held at Edwards Field tomorrow.

QUALIFIERS FROM the Diablo Valley Athletic League were the Diablo Relay Team as they copped third place, Al Tiranetta of Livermore who placed second in the 100, Bill McMillen with his second in the 440 and Jesse Lea of Pittsburg with a runner up spot in the 880.

GEORGE HEAME and Gary Williamson of Acalanes tied with John Hind for second in the pole vault. A tossed coin gave the state try to Heame and Hind.

Other D.V.A.L. point getters who were below the state qualifying level were John Reid of San Ramon fourth in the 100 Vince Darone, Pittsburg, fifth in the high hurdles, Hiro Okawachi of Alhambra high, tied for fifth in the high jump. Bob Ritchie, Pleasant Hill fourth in the broad jump and John Cadwell, Acalanes fifth in the discuss. Pittsburg took fourth in the relay.

HEADLIGHT BLINDNESS

It's a law in California that you must dim your headlights when you come within 500 feet of an oncoming vehicle. Glaring headlights can cause temporary blindness for as much as three seconds. Give the other motorist a break by dimming your headlights in time.

Junior Baseball Opens Sunday at City Park!

By MEL ALAMANO

There should be a full house Sunday at the city park.

It's the grand opening of the Rec. Junior Leagues. The program will get under way at 1 p.m.

All teams in the three leagues will appear in uniform. The Treasure Island Naval Band will be on hand to add music and color and officials of the recreation commission and city will be there to support the youngsters.

SPEECHES WILL NOT be made after the ticket drawing the Coast League will open the season with Miilu MacPherson playing D. K. Young Sewers. The National League will play the second game when Henry J. Kaiser is pitted against Hoky's.

The American League will open its season at Las Lomas High's diamond at 4:30 p.m.

All leagues will appear at the city park for the opening activities. All prizes given away at the opening are from the Walnut Creek Youth Athletic Association.

The amount of tickets sold by the association members will decide how much can be done financially for the leagues and boys. Ticket stubs and money must be in by tomorrow at 5:30 p.m.

This can be done at Sports and Games, 1604 Locust Street. The grand prize will be a good used car in good condition, donated by Van Horn Motors. Second prize is a Magnavox portable TV set and third prize a Philco Portable radio.

Tickets are a $1 donation and the winners do have to be present to win.

The new baseball diamond will not be ready for the olders boys, so games will be played at Las Lomas until it is ready.

Last Sunday members of the Walnut Creek YAA erected benches and protective screens for the Coast League Teams at the new Walnut Creek diamond. It appears at the present time that all Coast League official games will be played there.

THE FIELDS are in good condition. The fellows worked in the hot sun and really did a nice job.

Parkmead's diamond needs plenty of work and if the grader had not broken down saturday it would have been improved.

Plans for fixing that field are being made at present.

All the materials for the work on the fields were purchased by the association.

The cost of new bleachers for the new field is high, so efforts are being made to secure used stands, if possible. In the short time the association has been formed, the group has done wonders.

ANY FATHER who has a youngster playing should join, even if he can't donate time as the other fellows do. Due to the shortage of time, uniforms could not be issued sooner, but until the number of boys signed up, it was impossible to estimate how many would be needed.

All parents are urged to attend Sunday and bring the relations, too!

Tickets will be on sale at the park, according to Marion Stephenson, chairman. Tickets are on sale at Sport and Games until tomorrow evening.

It may be you who wins a prize, and even if you don't it help these youngsters.

All games scores will appear next Friday, so follow The Sun.

Lafayette Wins First Babe Ruth Tilt at ECCJC

The Lafayette Youth sponsored Babe Ruth Club came through with a sterling pitching performance and some clutch hitting to post a 5-0 win in the league opener last Sunday afternoon when they played Martinez on the East Contra Costa Junior College diamond.

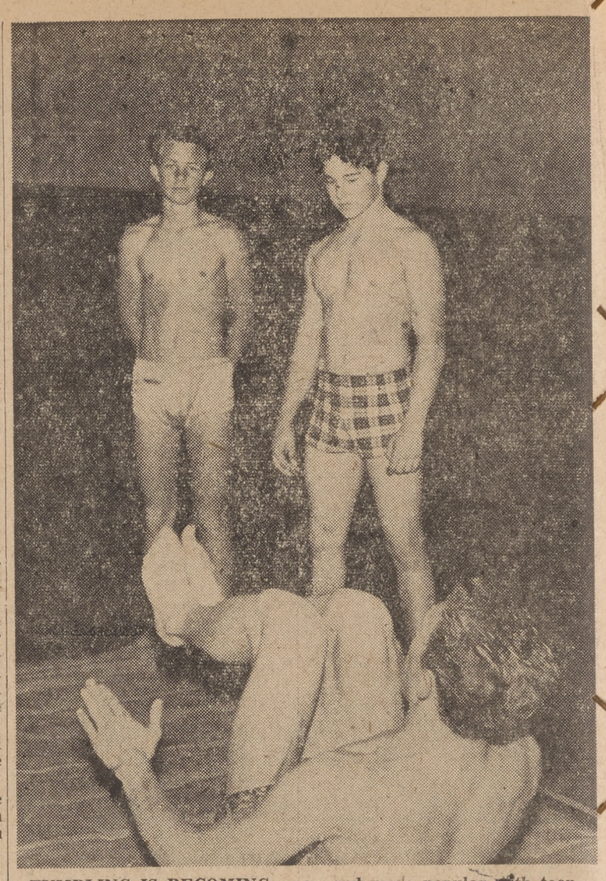
The pitching performance came from right hander Tom Strain who threw a nifty one hitter along with his shut out. The lone hit came in the second inning when firstbaseman Dennis got a single to rightfield.

Lafayett's first run came in the fourth frame when Jack Carman went to second on a double, stole third and scored on a wild pitch.

In the 5th Chris Rinne singled, pilfered second and did it again to go to third from where he scored on a single by Don Nelson.

The big inning for the winners was in the 6th when they added three insurance runs.

Carmen walked as did Geoff Picard and when Strain was on via the pitchers error the bases were plugged. Carman came home when Denny Toll walked and Picard and Strain tallied on Bob Gillhams line drive single to center field. That ended the scoring and gave Lafayette the 5-0 win on five hits.



TUMBLING IS BECOMING more and more popular with teenagers, and as a result facilities are being expanded in most high schools in the area. Demonstrating their facillity at this active pastime are Bill Connelly, on the mat, and Jay Markham and Steiner Pedersen. —Sun photo by Don Bradley
